Dear parents a few words to you, you are the most important person in your child's life. Your contribution during the formative years of your children plays a significant role in what they become in the future. Home is the primary environment in which a child's potential and personality is shaped. It is therefore very important that we create a positive and caring atmosphere in our homes. This will not only a support what goes on in the class rooms but also will instill the desire to learn. It is only through constant encouragement, involvement and guidance our children become motivated first to make you happy and then make themselves happy as they grow older. Thank you dear parent for your support and cooperation in all the school activities and for standing by us in all our endeavor.

As I conclude I thank God Almighty for all the blessing of the last year. Once again my special thanks to all the dignitaries for gracing this occasion.

May God bless all of us.

Thank you!
